

COLLEGE SONG TO SOUTHWESTERN

Words by
FLORENCE M. CATE

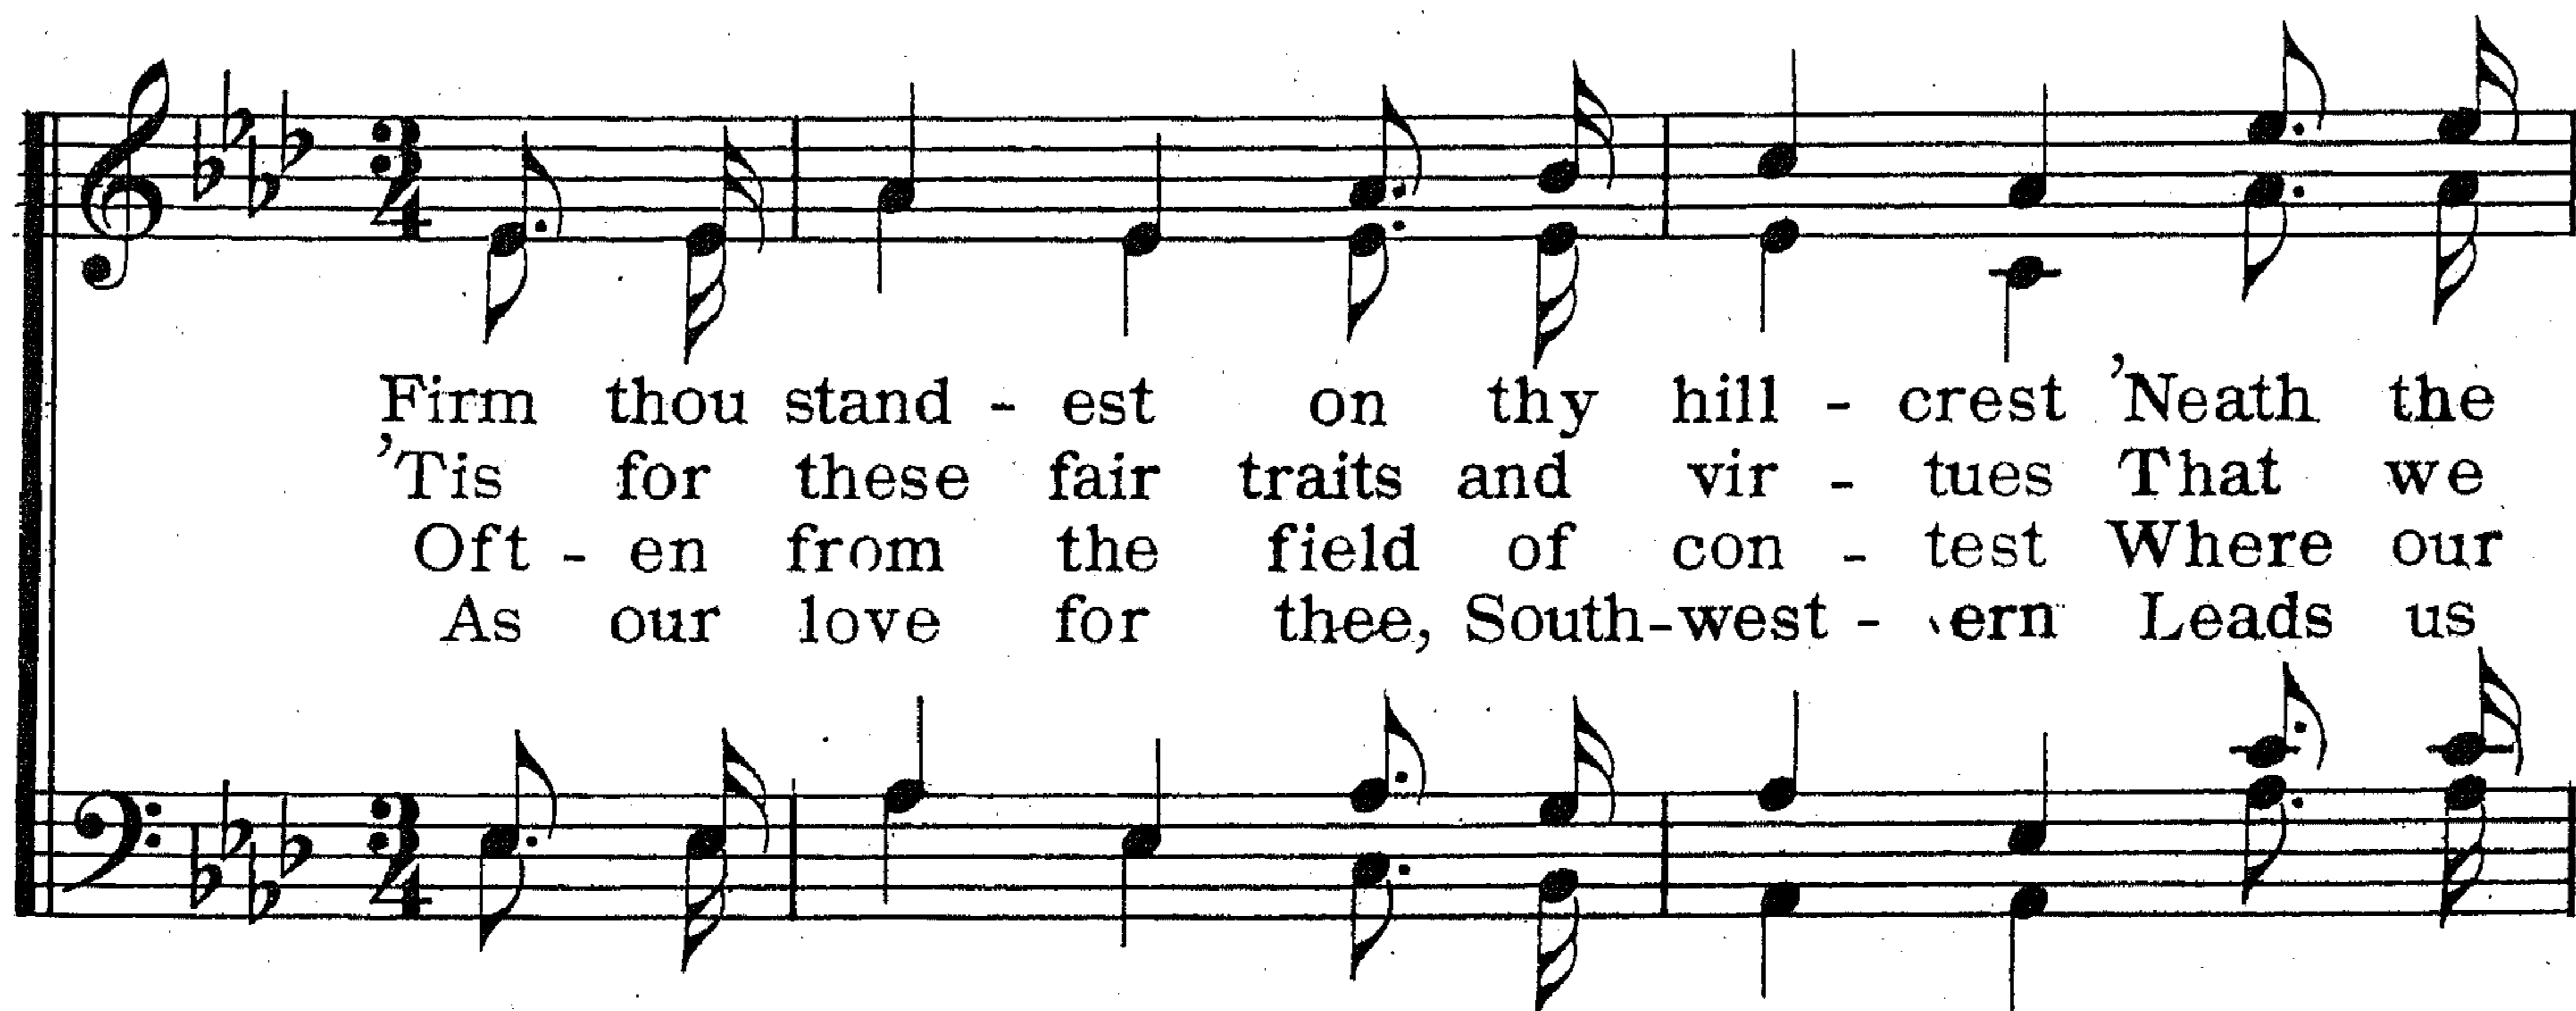

Music by
A. S. FOWLER, JR.

Music
E. S. M.
1959
1868
F. 69
1922

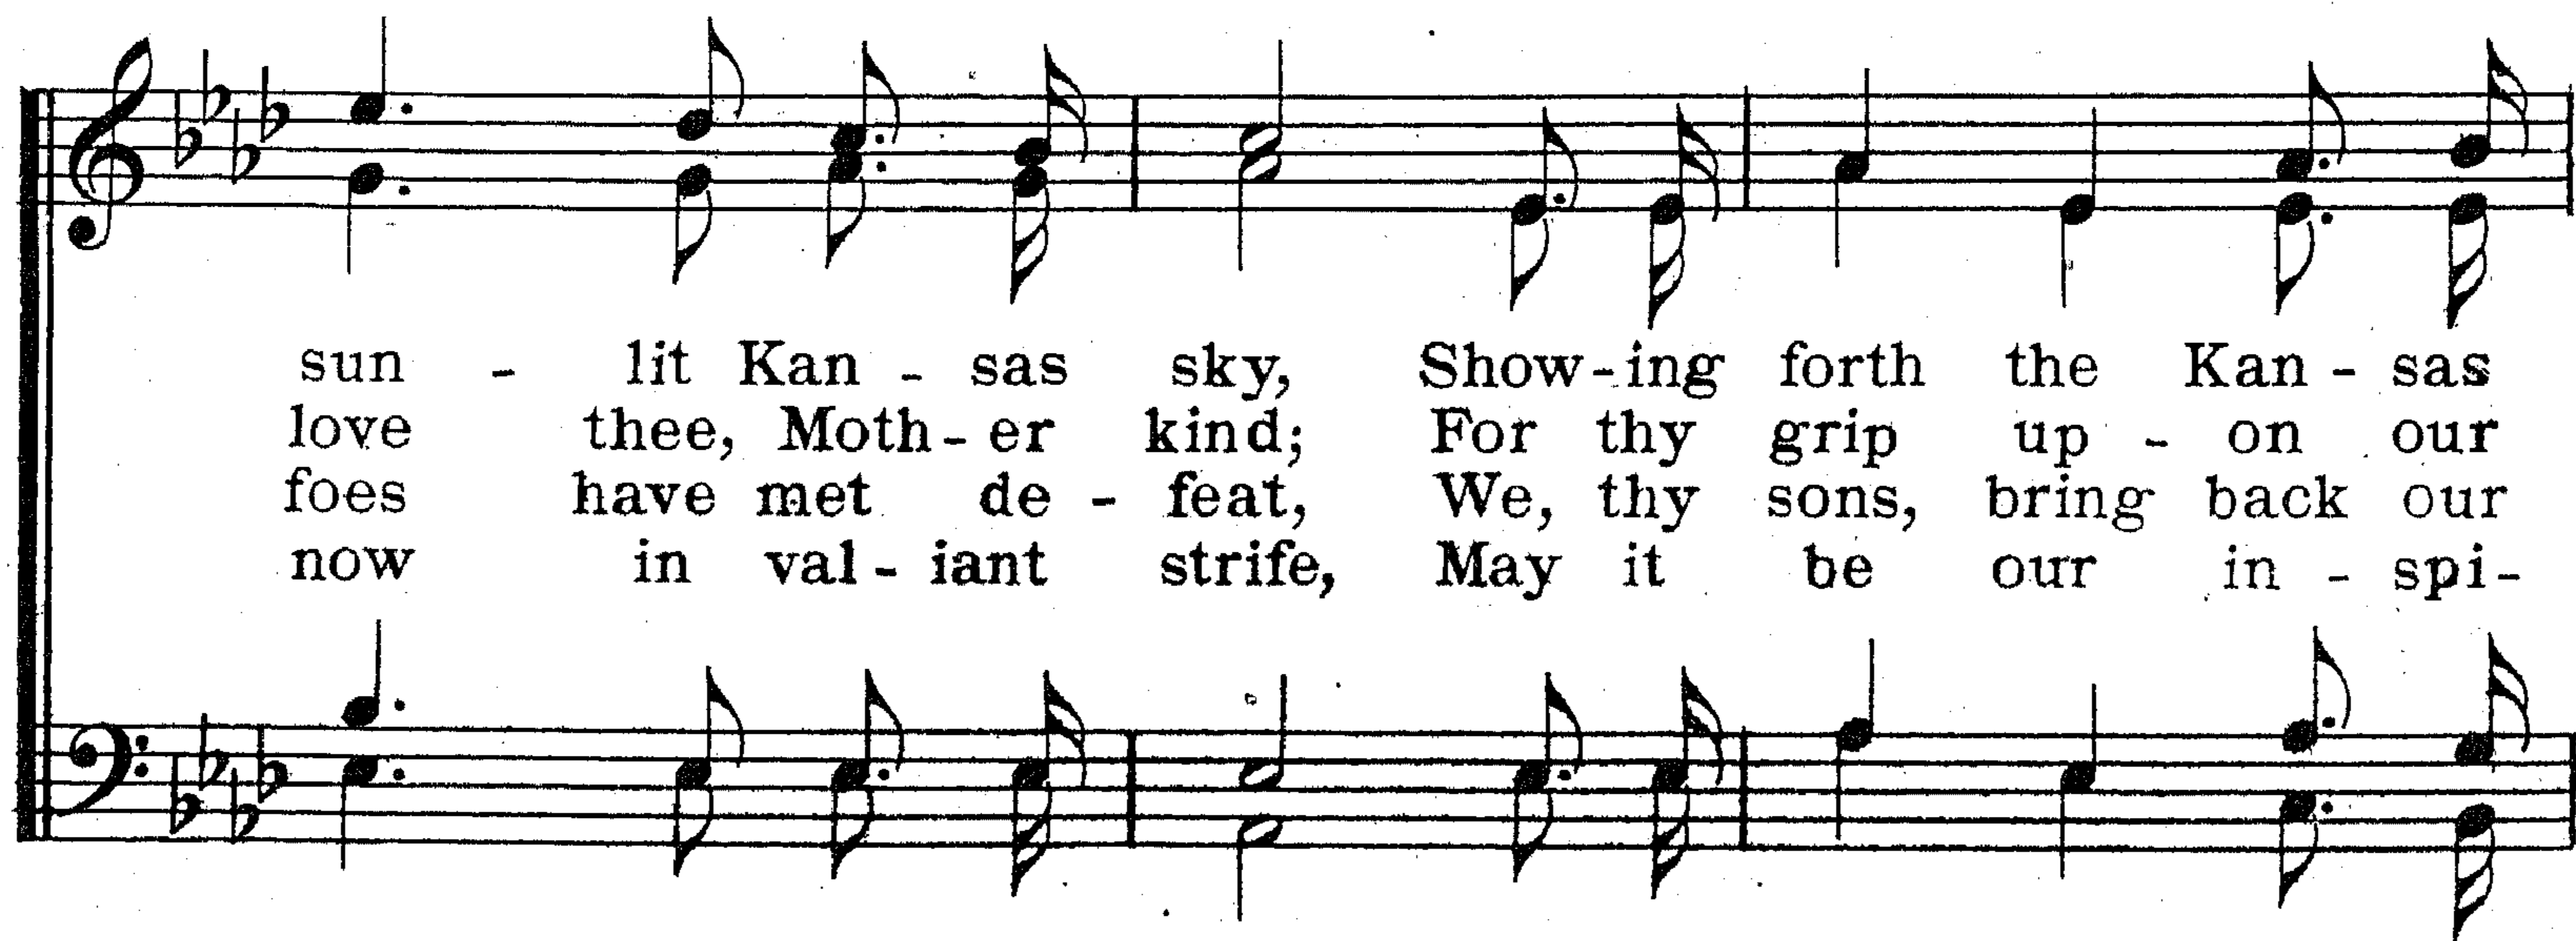

College Song to Southwestern

Words by
FLORENCE M. CATE.

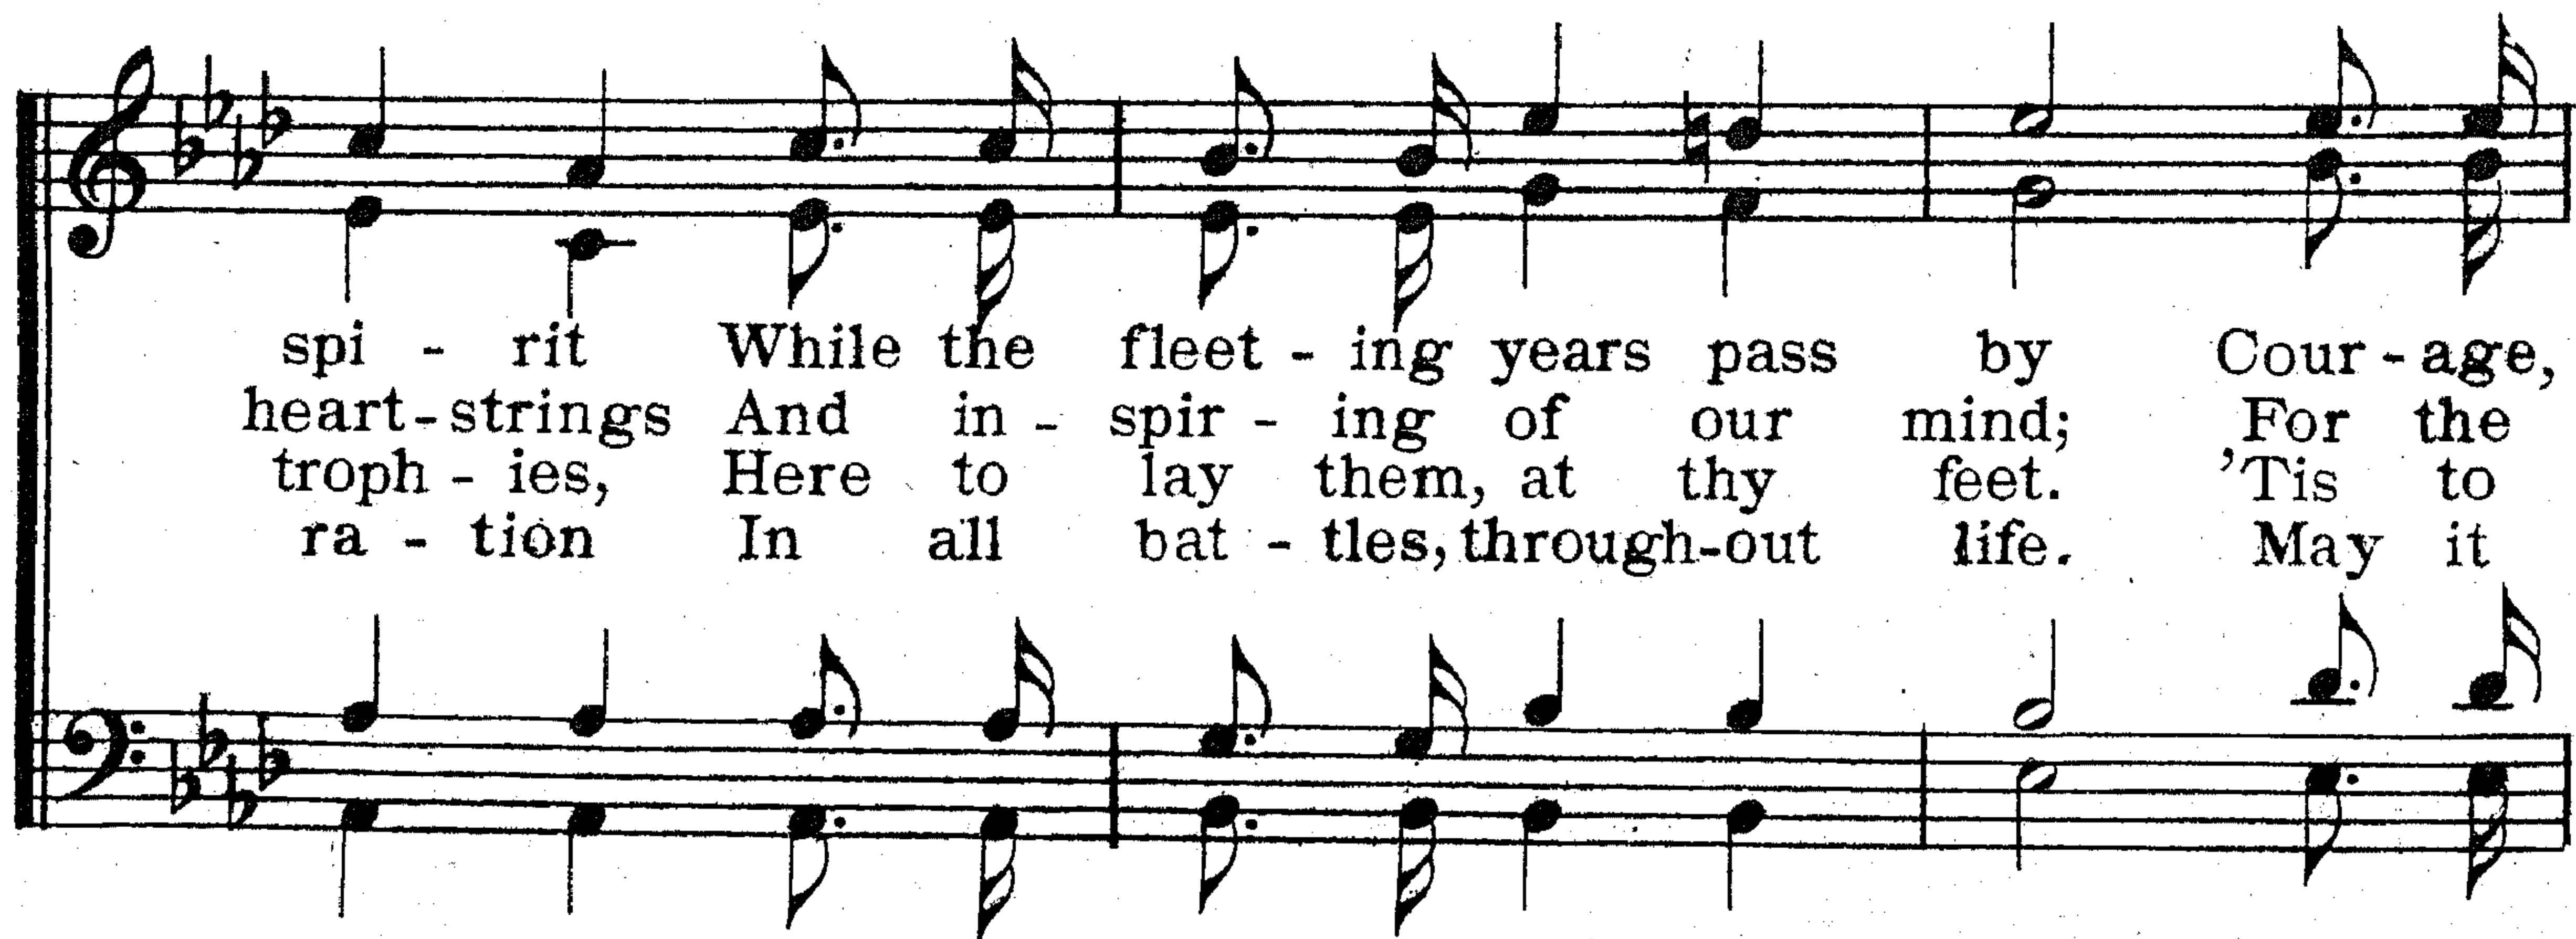

Music by
A. S. FOWLER Jr.

Firm thou stand - est on thy hill - crest 'Neath the 'Tis for these fair traits and vir - tues That we Oft - en from the field of con - test Where our
As our love for thee, South-west - ern Leads us

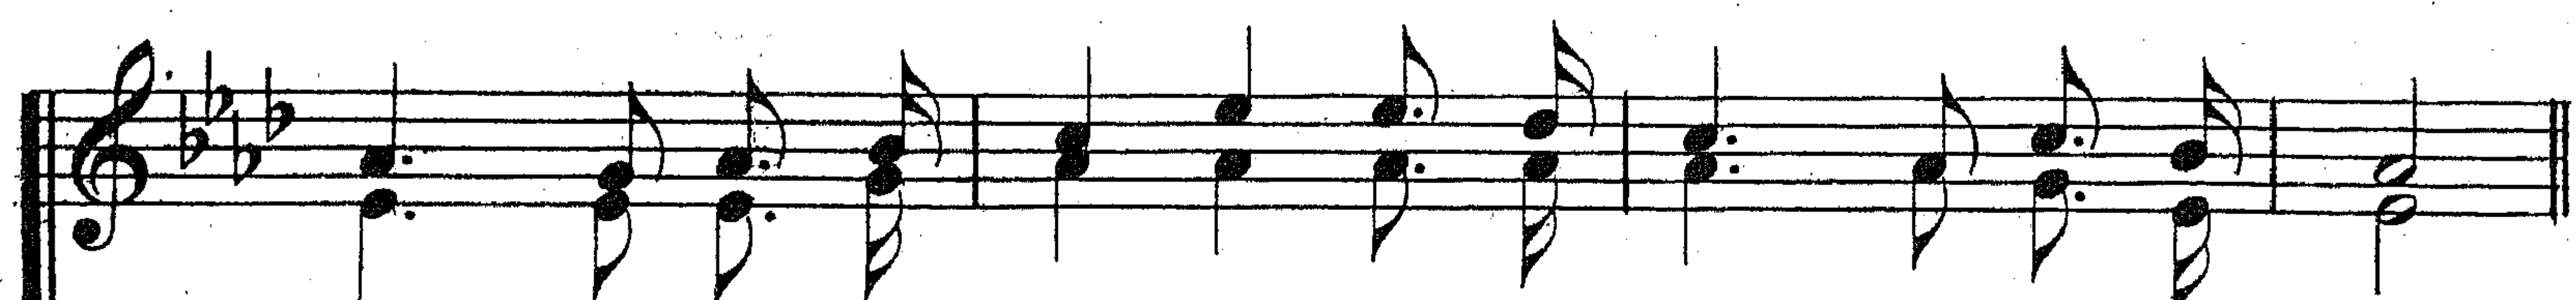

sun - lit Kan - sas sky, Show - ing forth the Kan - sas love thee, Moth - er kind; For thy grip up - on our foes have met de - feat, We, thy sons, bring back our now in val - iant strife, May it be our in - spi - spi - rit While the fleet - ing years pass by Cour - age, heart-strings And in - spir - ing of our mind; For the troph - ies, Here to lay them, at thy feet. 'Tis to ra - tion In all bat - tles, through-out life. May it hope, and high am - bi - tion, En - er - gy, and thrill - ing life Which can friend - ships thou hast brought us, Deep and lasting, strong and true; For the thee we give the lau - rels; 'Tis to thee the praise be - longs; 'Tis for guide us in the strug - gle Of the right against the wrong, And in rise a - bove mis - for - tune, Glory - ing in the toil and strife.

 pow - er to face life's problems With a broad - er, clear - er view.
 thee we win the hon - ors, And ex - alt thee in our songs.
 eve - ry hour of con - flict Make us true, and brave, and strong.

Refrain

Hail to thee, be - loved South - west - ern! May thy hon - ors still in - crease! May thy loy - al sons and daughters Bring thee fame which ne'er shall cease.

